

Release report

This PDF is generated by the repository itself, so the example needs no external file.

It is fetched as a blob and rendered by pdf.js,
the same way a document behind an authenticated API endpoint would be.

The worker is configured for Vite with `import.meta.url`, so it is bundled and versioned alongside the application.
